

Robert Todd is a professional bridge player and teacher whose hometown is Tallahassee, Florida, but you'll find him all over the country and world playing and teaching bridge. Robert began playing bridge at a very young age in his parents' party bridge games and came to duplicate while working on his graduate degree in Mathematics. He spent a year in Helsinki, Finland, where he met and played with many fine European players. When he returned to the States, Robert decided to become a bridge professional himself and never looked back!

Robert plays bridge at every level from the local club to international championships. He's finished in the top 20 on the Barry Crane list (with over 1500 masterpoints) in both 2008 and 2009, posted several top-10 finishes in National-level Pairs events with numerous partners, and won the 0-10,000 Knockout Teams at the Dallas NABC in 2014.

Robert has degrees in Mathematics, Physics, and Political Science from Florida State University and Mathematics from the University of Helsinki. He's been a computer programmer as well as a university teacher.

Robert is often a featured lecturer at many Regional and National Tournaments. He is considered one of the top young bridge teachers in North America. Robert holds a wide range of bridge events, from 8-12 player workshops up to 150-200 player large seminars (and everything in between). He often co-hosts events with some of the all-time best bridge teachers (Audrey Grant, Larry Cohen, etc...) and they all say that Robert is "the next generation of great bridge instructor and entertainer!" Come join him at one of his events!
