Larry's Quizzes: Notrump Planning

See how well you make your plan.

Faces & Gestures (a no-no)

Reading Michael's article last issue about following the rules got Larry thinking about one area of rule breaking that occurs too much in the average game: making faces. Larry wrote a series of articles on the importance of ethics in bridge (and also on the cheating scandals of a few years ago), but this one about making faces is the one that should be mandatory reading for every player.
