BMS Bridge Byte: Counting as a Defender

In this bridge byte with Michael Berkowitz, Michael discusses the importance of counting points as a defender. It should be the first thing you do when dummy comes down so you know what to expect from partner and declarer. See if you would ace this tricky deal from Michael's recent webinar.

Larry's Articles: Transfer with a 5-Card Major?

We don't want to put partner in a 5-2 fit when 1NT might be better. But what if we think the 5-2 fit will score an extra trick? How can we decide? Larry grappled with this so you don't have to! Read his expert opinion and see if you'd do the same.

Bidding With Larry! Hand # 1124

In this problem, you have to decide whether to balance after the opponents open 1NT passed to you. Make sure you notice the vulnerability!

Michael's WEBINARS

Michael Teaches The Final Countdown

with
Michael Berkowitz

Includes lesson notes and a recorded copy of the webinar sent soon after the LIVE event.

Friday's @2:00PM Eastern

Learn how to count in all situations over this 5-week series. Counting is one of the hardest skills to develop as a bridge player. In this series, Michael will start at the beginning with the right way to count distribution as well as finding out where the missing points are located. Counting, when done right, can allow you to visualize the entire deal. It's not out of reach, if you work on improving your skills incrementally.

- Oct 29 - Counting distributions.
- Nov 5 - Count three suits and the 4th is free! Part 1
- Nov 12 - Count three suits and the 4th is free! Part 2
- Nov 19 - The full picture.

Duplicate game immediately following webinar with postmortem by Michael B.

Thursday's @ 2:00PM Eastern

During the next several weeks, I will take you into the world of defense and show many of the things that you need to think about. If you review the class notes after the Zoom session, you will have many of the tools needed to be a good defender. Easy? No. But it can be done when you learn how to sort out the information available and how to use it. I can and hope to be able to do many more sessions on defense.

Oct 28 – Defense Part 5
