NEW! BMS Bridge Byte: Legitimate or Illegitimate Line?

Sometimes you make a play hoping your opponents will make an error. That's a reasonable strategy--defending is hard! Other times, you might make a play hoping for a particular layout of the opponents' cards. This is called a "legitimate" play since the opponents can do nothing to beat you. Which way you should play depends on which is more likely to work. See if you would play this deal the legitimate way or not.

Larry's Articles: When does a Notrump Bid Promise Stoppers?

Bidding notrump doesn't always mean that you have stoppers in all the unbid suits. It doesn't even always show a balanced hand. In this article, Larry discusses when bidding notrump promises a particular stopper.
