BMS Bridge Byte: Underbidding

Underbidding is a frequent issue for players who only count HCPs and use that number religiously. Once you have a fit extra shape allows you to bid more. See if you are evaluating your hand properly to get to the right spot.

Larry's Quizzes: Responding to a Takeout Double Part 2

Responding to a takeout double is a very important part of bidding. If you always respond on the lowest level, your partner never knows if you have values or not. Making sure you can picture whether your hand is useful or not is the key to figuring out how high to go. See how well you are handling this frequent issue in this quiz.
