Larry's
Trailer

Bidding games and slams is all well and good, but good results really come from winning those partscore battles. If you allow your opponents to settle in a comfortable spot, you aren't going to get good results. On the other hand, if you never stop bidding, you'll see that -200 isn't such a good score either.

In this series Larry will demonstrate how to successfully push the contract to the correct level without getting punished.
